

Holding a pencil

Right hand

Do you use your right hand to chop vegetables or hold scissors?
If you use your right hand to do many things, you are right-handed.
You need to hold your pencil like this when you write.

Some people are left-handed. They use their left hand to chop vegetables or hold scissors. If your left hand is stronger, hold your pencil like this when you write.
